There is also an increasing demand to select meeting sites and conference and convocation dates much farther in advance. This can impose an added burden on the Executive Council and the National Office in anticipating the needs of the Society 3 to 5 years ahead of time. But this has been handled efficiently and smoothly by all concerned.

The National Steering Committee for Regional Conferences will be meeting during the early summer to plan for the '77 meetings. Conferences are to be held in California, Georgia, Nebraska, Texas, and Virginia with local chapters at each site planning programs. Selection of these local committees will be handled by the National Steering Committee during the summer.

Finally, it should be noted that the work of this office has been supported and aided by many fine co-workers, both in the National Office and in the many active chapters across the country. These persons, too numerous for individual honors here, deserve a great deal of the credit for the successful programs with which we have worked this biennium.
